Drawing on Whitehead and her other teachers, Paul Weiss, C.I. Lewis, H.H. Price, and Grace de Laguna, as well as the traditions of ancient Greek philosophy, Continental Rationalism, German Idealism, and American Pragmatism, Stearns has created an epistemologically and logically sound systematic account of the ontology of individuation and the relational genesis and endurance of individual beings.	$9.95
Die at the Right Time! A Subjective Cultural History of the American Sixties Eric v.d. Luft ISBN 978-0-9655179-2-8 (October 2009) <www.gegensatzpress.com/datrt.html>	The author was a ten-year-old sixth-grader when President John F. Kennedy was murdered on November 22, 1963. Die at the Right Time! is the story of the cultural, political, aesthetic, and sociological development he shared nationwide with his rebellious peers from that point until the early seventies. He remains unreconstructed, unrepentant, and uncompromised in his belief that the best thing he ever did was to work against the Vietnam War. Die at the Right Time! shows the leftist ideals of the sixties as he experienced them.	$28.95
